Carly Taylor – It has been a huge privilege for us to support and receive Carly's gifts among us in various roles and most lately as she has entered training for ordination. The next step for Carly has now arrived and after Easter she will be moving into a new context to help with her formation for the sacred priesthood. Her new parish will be within the deanery, and she will join them straight after Easter, remaining there until her ordination (d.v.) in 2025. We wish her, her husband and children the very best for their future.
